WELCOME TO IDAHO NATIONAL LABORATORY'S SOCIAL COMMUNITY!

We appreciate the support of our social media followers, as well as engagement on our social media posts, which can lead to open discussions about our work to change the world's energy future and secure our nation's critical infrastructure. Please keep the following in mind when writing your comments.

SAFETY AND SECURITY: We prioritize the safety and security of our employees and followers and are dedicated to providing a safe space for the civilized exchange of thoughts and ideas. We aim to allow all comments on our page, so long as they contribute to a safe, respectful and informed discussion.

RESPECT: Keep in mind that there are real people with real feelings reading your comments. Please be polite and respectful to all members of our community.

MODERATION: Idaho National Laboratory reserves the right to moderate our social media comments section and follower lists, and remove any comment or follower for any reason we deem appropriate, such as comments that:

- Are vulgar, abusive, obscene, or that threaten or harass others.
- Contain bigoted, racist or targeted language.
- Contain nudity or offensive photos.
- Promote products, services or contain links to offers for products and services.
