

Mr. Robert M. Hillier
Chief Information Officer
Director of Information Management
Idaho National Laboratory

Mr. Robert Hillier serves as Idaho National Laboratory’s chief information officer (CIO) and director of Information Management. Previously, he was INL’s deputy chief information officer and chief technology officer.

Prior to joining INL in February 2016, Hillier was CIO for eight years at the Nevada National Security Site, where he served as chair of the DOE National Nuclear Security Administration CIO Council, and on the DOE National Lab CIO Council. Earlier, he worked for Northrop Grumman, managing information technology for all domestic and international programs.

He has more than 30 years of experience in the information technology field. His professional background includes expertise in IT project management, international information management systems and application development. His experience also extends into wireless applications, business management and quality control. He is a Six Sigma Black Belt and holds a degree in computer science from Southern University.